

ANDREW JORGENSEN

(PICTURED ABOVE)

OB Warehouse (opened in November)

Global Cuisine inspires this vast second-floor eatery in Ocean Beach (formerly Portugalia), sporting over-the-top industrial décor — characterized by “repurposed” elements like the sawed-in-half 1965 Airstream trailer serves as the window into the kitchen — and chef Amiko Gubbins’ Morocco-spiced flatiron steak.

4839 Newport Ave., Ocean Beach

619.222.1700, cohnrestaurants.com/obwarehouse

(PICTURED ABOVE)

Pan Bon (opening in January)

One of two expansive eateries opening in Little Italy’s Ariel tower, Pan Bon expands upon the bakery brothers Giancarlo and Luciano Anselmi opened in Verona, Italy. Options will range from grab-and-go foods to a cafe and a more formal dining area.

1450 Kettner Blvd., Little Italy

619.373.5780, panbon.us

(PICTURED AT RIGHT)

Pop’s Liquor Cabinet (opened in December)

Billed as San Diego’s smallest bar (it seats about a six-pack of patrons), Pop’s Liquor Cabinet (formerly Broberto’s) is where you make friends the old-fashioned way — over simple drinks in a no-frills but comfy setting.

540 F St., Gaslamp

619.487.9276, popsbarsd.com (CONT. ON PAGE 94)

Oceana Coastal Kitchen’s executive chef Steven Riemer.

(PICTURED ABOVE)

Oceana Coastal Kitchen (opening early 2015)

At 8,200 square feet, this new Catamaran Resort eatery (formerly Atoll) from the design team behind The Lodge at Torrey Pines massively and handsomely showcases the chef-driven cuisine of Lodge alumnus Steven Riemer.

3999 Mission Blvd., Pacific Beach

catamaranresort.com

Pillbox Tavern & Grill (opened in October)

Located above a famed beach break in Solana Beach, this “retro-modern” bar/restaurant (formerly Sushi Solana) cooks up inspired Coastal American cuisine like BBQ Baja chicken salad and a mahi sandwich dressed with mango slaw.

117 W. Plaza St., Solana Beach

858.436.7016, pillboxtavern.com

