DUCK DIVE PULLED BBQ CHICKEN SANDWICH

With warm days and summer on the horizon, there's no better way to kick off National BBQ Month than eating some great barbecue at these San Diego restaurants.

Brazen BBQ in Hillcrest is bringing the heat to National BBQ Month. The pit masters at Brazen BBQ create smoky dishes for all to enjoy. Items off of the Smokehouse Pit Specialties menu will knock you off of your feet! The Lone Star Texas Brisket, is a signature dish at Brazen BBQ that includes brisket that has been rubbed down in a house made Brazen rub, smoked for hours and then sliced thin. It's no surprise that while competing, Brazen BBQ won the praised Rookie of the Year award, finished in California's top ten and placed in the nation's top 100.

Pizza and barbeque? Yes, please! Woodstock's Pizza is combining the best two items in the world of food. Their BBQ Bird pizza begins with a layer of bbq sauce topped with barbeque chicken, freshly sliced red onions and crispy bacon. This pizza puts all other pies to shame. Celebrate National BBQ Month with a twist and visit Woodstock's locations in Pacific Beach and El Cajon.

Pillbox Tavern in Solana Beach is known for their laid back vibe and beachy eats, but you would never guess that they make one cheeky, house made barbeque sauce. The Pulled Pork Sandwich, featuring slow roasted pulled pork tossed in Chef Shelly's signature homemade BBQ sauce, topped with coleslaw and onion rings on a brioche bun. The pulled, not shredded pork, helps keep in all that deep barbeque flavor. Head over to Pillbox Tavern, get your bbq grub on and make a beach day out of it!

Over in Pacific Beach, Backyard Kitchen & Tap is making some barbeque classics. A house favorite, the BBQ Ribs will not disappoint for National BBQ Month. A half rack of St. Louis style ribs rubbed down with house made barbeque sauce is served with a side of baked beans and cole slaw. Relax on the patio with your friends, soak in the sunshine and devour these delectable ribs.

How many people can say they get to eat barbeque and listen to the waves hit the sand? If you want to be one of those people head over to Duck Dive in Pacific Beach. The Pulled BBQ Chicken Sandwich, gives a slight change to the traditional barbeque sandwich, consisting of a toasted brioche bun piled high with pulled chicken drenched in barbeque sauce topped with an onion haystack. Grab a napkin and enjoy!

In the heart of the Gaslamp Quarter, barleymash is giving you barbeque with a shot of bourbon. Known for their alcohol-infused dishes and unique takes on traditional eats, it's no surprise barleymash is bringing you barbeque in a whole different way. The Mash barleymac is a bowl of cavatappi noodles tossed in a cheese sauce topped with ale-braised pulled pork, bourbon-bbq sauce, fresh jalapenos and crispy tobacco onions. The bold flavors of bbq meet the cheesy goodness of mac and cheese.

If you're looking for a late night barbeque fix, head on over to PB Shore Club. Their late night menu has the ultra-popular West Coast Wings tossed in a barbeque sauce. No one else does barbeque wings like PB Shore Club. Enjoy your wings and a cold drink at this beach bar while taking in the coastal breeze
